

Professor Zhang Xiulan

Dean

School of Social Development and Public Policy
Beijing Normal University

Professor Xiulan Zhang obtained her PhD degree in social welfare from the University of California at Berkeley. She is the Dean of the School of Social Development and Public Policy, Beijing Normal University. Currently she is on the national advisory councils of healthcare reform, poverty alleviation, and aging; is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Ministry of Civil Affairs; is the vice-president of China Association of Social Welfare and China Social Policy Association. She has published extensively in the areas of social management and social innovation, health care, education, social protection, social welfare, community participation, long term care, poverty and illness, early child care and education, housing, child protection and child poverty, etc. She has consulted to the Ministry of Civil Affairs, the World Bank, the Asian Development Bank, United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), Department for International Development (DFID), the Ford Foundation, and other agencies.