

Dr Deanna Rudgard

Governor, Lee Hysan Foundation

Dr Deanna Lee Rudgard was born before WWII and spent the war years in Chungking. She went to England for her education and stayed in Europe until 30 years ago when she had to return to Hong Kong on the sudden death of her father. She now divides her time between Switzerland, the U.K. and Hong Kong.

She has been involved in the activities of Lee Hysan Foundation and other charitable organizations in Hong Kong and elsewhere for more than thirty years. Her main interest is in giving bright young people with a heart and good mind an opportunity to broaden their outlook, learn values that are much needed in every community, and to make a real difference wherever life may lead them.
