

Debra Morris

Reader in Law and Policy
University of Liverpool

Debra Morris is Reader in Charity Law & Policy at the University of Liverpool where she is also the Director of the Charity Law & Policy Unit. As Director of the Unit, she leads research on various projects concerned with aspects of charity law. She is Editor of Charity Law & Practice Review, the only UK journal specialising in charity law. She has written widely in the area of charity law and has presented at conferences and seminars around the world.