

Samuel Tong

Risk Governance Practitioner

Mr Tong recently retired after spending more than 35 years on risk management, internal control and corporate governance in his career. Mr Tong is a qualified accountant, computer auditor and internal auditor. He started his career in a big 4 accounting firm performing external and computer audits. Later, he worked for a listed public utility company until retirement. He was head of internal audit for the group which includes both local and overseas organisations. His area of interest includes risk management, internal control, corporate governance, corporate social responsibilities & sustainability, fraud investigation, personal data privacy, equal opportunities, statutory audit, computer audit and internal audit.