

REGULATIONS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF JOURNALISM (BJ)

These regulations apply to students admitted to the BJ curriculum in the academic year 2018-2019 and thereafter.

(See also General Regulations and Regulations for First Degree Curricula)

Definitions

J1¹ In these Regulations, and in the Syllabuses for the degree of BJ, unless the context otherwise requires:

‘Course’ means a course of study, with a credit value expressed as a number of credit-units as specified in the syllabus.

‘Credits’ means the value assigned to each course to indicate its study load relative to the total load under a degree curriculum. The study load refers to the hours of student learning activities and experiences, both within and outside the classrooms, and includes contact hours and time spent on assessment tasks and examinations.

‘Pre-requisite’ means a course or a group of courses which candidates must have completed successfully or a requirement which candidates must have fulfilled before being permitted to take the course in question.

Admission to the degree

J2 To be eligible for admission to the degree of Bachelor of Journalism, candidates shall

- (a) comply with the General Regulations;
 - (b) comply with the Regulations for First Degree Curricula; and
 - (c) complete the curriculum in accordance with the regulations that follow.

Period of study

J3 The curriculum shall normally require eight semesters of full-time study, extending over not fewer than four academic years, and shall include any assessment to be held during and/or at the end of each semester. Candidates shall not in any case be permitted to extend their studies beyond the maximum period of registration of six academic years.

Completion of the curriculum

J4

- (a) Candidates shall satisfy the requirements prescribed in UG 5 of the Regulations for First Degree Curricula².
 - (b) Candidates shall complete not fewer than 240 credits of courses.

² Specific requirements are spelt out in the syllabuses.

- (c) Candidates shall successfully complete not fewer than 96 credits of courses for the major in Journalism including 54 credits of core courses, 24 credits of disciplinary electives, 6 credits of capstone experience requirement and 12 credits of Faculty Global Citizenship requirement.
 - (d) Candidates shall successfully complete not fewer than 72 credits of courses for another major offered by any Faculty.
 - (e) Candidates shall normally be required to take not fewer than 24 credits nor more than 30 credits in any one semester (except the summer semester) unless otherwise permitted or required by the Board of the Faculty, or except in the final semester of study when the number of outstanding credits required to complete the curriculum requirements may be fewer than 24 credits.
 - (f) Candidates may, of their own volition, take additional credits not exceeding 6 credits in each semester, and/or further credits during the summer semester, accumulating up to a maximum of 72 credits in one academic year. With the special permission of the Board of the Faculty, candidates may exceed the annual study load of 72 credits in a given academic year provided that the total number of credits taken does not exceed the maximum curriculum study load of 288 credits for the normative period of study specified in J3, save as provided for under J4(g).
 - (g) Where candidates are required to make up for failed credits, the Board of the Faculty may give permission for candidates to exceed the annual study load of 72 credits provided that the total number of credits taken does not exceed the maximum curriculum study load of 432 credits for the maximum period of registration specified in J3.
 - (h) Candidates shall normally enroll in not more than 108 credits of introductory courses in the first three years of study.
 - (i) Candidates shall not enroll in any introductory courses in the final year of study.

Selection of courses

J5 Candidates who wish to change their selection of courses at the beginning of each semester may do so up to 2 weeks after the commencement of the semester. Requests for changes beyond the 2-week deadline will not be permitted, except for medical or other reasons accepted by the Faculty Board, and candidates' withdrawal from any course without permission will result in a fail grade.

Assessment

J6 Candidates shall be assessed in each of the courses for which they have registered, and assessment may be conducted in any combination of continuous assessment of coursework, written examinations and/or any other assessable activities. Only passed courses will earn credits. Grades shall be awarded in accordance with UG 8 of the Regulations for First Degree Curricula.

- J7 Candidates are required to make up for failed courses in the following manner
- (a) undergoing re-assessment/re-examination in the failed course to be held no later than the end of the following semester (not including the summer semester); or
 - (b) re-submitting failed coursework, without having to repeat the same course of instruction; or

- (c) repeating the failed course by undergoing instruction and satisfying the assessments; or
- (d) for elective courses, taking another course in lieu and satisfying the assessment requirements.

J8 Candidates shall not be permitted to repeat a course for which they have received a D grade or above for the purpose of upgrading.

Discontinuation of studies

J9 Unless otherwise permitted by the Board of the Faculty, candidates shall be recommended for discontinuation of their studies if they have:

- (a) failed to complete 36 or more credits in two consecutive semesters (not including the summer semester), except where they are not required to take such a number of credits in the two given semesters; or
 - (b) failed to achieve an average Semester GPA of 1.0 or higher for two consecutive semesters (not including the summer semester); or
 - (c) exceeded the maximum period of registration specified in J3.

Absence from examination

J10 Candidates who are unable, because of illness, to be present at the written examinations of any course may apply for permission to present themselves at a supplementary examination of the same course to be held before the beginning of the first semester of the following academic year. Any such application shall normally be made on the form prescribed within two weeks of the first day of the candidate's absence from any examination. Any supplementary examination shall be part of that academic year's examinations, and the provisions made in the regulations for failure at the first attempt shall apply accordingly.

Advanced standing

J11 Advanced standing may be granted to candidates in recognition of studies completed successfully in an approved institution of higher education elsewhere in accordance with UG 2 of the Regulations for First Degree Curricula but advanced credits will not be included in the calculation of the GPA.

Credit transfer

J12 Candidates may, with the approval of the Board of the Faculty, transfer credits for courses completed at other institutions at any time during their candidature. The number of transferred credits may be recorded in the transcript of the candidate, but the results of courses completed at other institutions shall not be included in the calculation of the GPA. The number of credits to be transferred shall not exceed half of the total credits normally required under the degree curricula of the candidates during their candidature at University.

Award of the degree

- J13 To be eligible for award of the degree of BJ, candidates shall have
- (a) achieved a cumulative GPA of 1.00 or above;
 - (b) passed a minimum of 240 credits; and
 - (c) satisfied the requirements in UG 5 of the Regulations for First Degree Curricula.

Honours classification

J14

- (a) Honours classification shall be awarded in five divisions: First Class Honours, Second Class Honours Division One, Second Class Honours Division Two, Third Class Honours, Pass. The classification of honours shall be determined by the Board of Examiners for the degree in accordance with the following Cumulative GPA scores, with all courses taken (including failed courses) carrying equal weighting:

Class of honours	CGPA range
First Class Honours	3.60 – 4.30
Second Class Honours	(2.40 – 3.59)
Division One	3.00 – 3.59
Division Two	2.40 – 2.99
Third Class Honours	1.70 – 2.39
Pass	1.00 – 1.69

- (b) Honours classification may not be determined solely on the basis of a candidate's Cumulative GPA and the Board of Examiners for the degree may, at its absolute discretion and with justification, award a higher class of honours to a candidate deemed to have demonstrated meritorious academic achievement but whose Cumulative GPA falls below the range stipulated in J14(a) of the higher classification by not more than 0.05 Grade Point.
 - (c) A list of candidates who have successfully completed all the degree requirements shall be posted on Faculty noticeboards.

SYLLABUSES FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF JOURNALISM

I. OBJECTIVES

The Bachelor of Journalism seeks to provide students with basic learning and experience for entry-level professional journalism. Our objectives fall into three broad categories—conceptual, applied and critical thinking—that converge to give our students in-depth learning and the ability to continue learning at a high level as each individual's situation demands. On successful completion of the curriculum, students should be able to

- understand the role of journalism in a global society;
- understand ethical principles of gathering information;

- appreciate diversity in all its forms, and be able to navigate journalistically across cultural boundaries;
- demonstrate basic competency in journalistic writing for a wide range of media products;
- know how to gather information efficiently and ethically from a wide range of human and recorded sources;
- understand the use of technology in producing professional journalism, from the written word to multimedia production systems; and
- detect logical flaws and information gaps in journalistic products.

II. CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

1. The regulations specify the requirements with which candidates have to comply for completion of the BJ degree curriculum. Further details of the requirements are given in the syllabuses. Candidates may opt for another major offered by the Faculty of Social Sciences or other Faculties, and may choose to overload by 6 credits for a 96-credit major.

Candidates who opt to declare double majors in China Studies (Social Sciences stream), Geography, Politics and Public Administration, Psychology, Sociology and Social Work and Social Administration are allowed to undertake 24 credits of free electives, to fulfil the Social Innovation and Global Citizenship requirement for the second major.

(For detailed requirements of majors and course descriptions, please refer to the syllabuses of the respective programmes.)

Note:

(a) Course registration

Course registration will take place before the commencement of each semester. Candidates are advised to consult relevant teachers or Heads of Departments on the suitable combinations of courses and to adhere closely to the normal study pattern. Less suitable combinations of courses may not be permitted because of timetabling difficulties. Courses listed in the syllabuses may not necessarily be offered every year; depending on the exigencies of staffing, additional courses may be offered. Candidates may change their course selection during the two-week add/drop period which is scheduled at the beginning of each semester. Requests for changes beyond the 2-week deadline will not be permitted, except for medical or other reasons acceptable by the Faculty Board. Candidates' withdrawal from any course without permission will result in a fail grade. In course registration, candidates should pay special attention to the pre-requisite and co-requisite requirements of courses as specified in the syllabuses. A prerequisite is a course which candidates must have completed in accordance with the conditions stipulated by the Head of Department before being permitted to take a course in question. A co-requisite is a course which candidates must take at the same time as the course in question.

- (b) Candidates should complete the Common Core Courses, language enhancement and the introductory courses by the end of the sixth semester.
 - (c) Candidates should ensure that they have taken the relevant introductory course(s) for the subject in which they intend to major.
 - (d) For other majors, course selection is subject to the compliance with prescribed requirements and acceptance by the Heads of Department/staff concerned.
 - (e) Candidates applying for an exchange programme offered by the Journalism and Media Studies Centre, HKU World Wide or the Faculty of Social Sciences must declare if they would seek to fulfill the Global Citizenship requirement through the exchange programme when applying for the leave of absence with credit transfer.

INTRODUCTORY COURSES

CSSC9001. Practical Chinese for Social Sciences Students (6 credits)

Featuring problem-based learning (PBL) and collaborative learning approaches, this course aims to help students, through seminars and cases-based workshops, develop the ability to use the Chinese language effectively in the workplace. A key focus is on the use of Putonghua in presenting information for audiences. Essential techniques for producing office documents as well as reports will be discussed. Training in reading and writing the correct forms of traditional and simplified Chinese characters will also be provided.

Assessment: 70% coursework, 30% examination.

CUND9002. Practical Chinese and Hong Kong Society (6 credits)

This course is specifically designed for the students from the Mainland. With Putonghua as the medium of instruction, it aims to underscore the characteristic styles and formats of practical Chinese writings in the workplace context in Hong Kong. Topics addressing the rhetorical strategies for reader-oriented professional writings are included to strengthen the students' command of the language. In the "Chinese Characters" component, drilling practices provide ample opportunity for the students to learn to convert simplified characters into their traditional forms. The evolution of Cantonese and the lexical and phonetic systems of this dialect will be explored. The local history and culture of Hong Kong will also be considered. On-site visits are organized to deepen the students' understanding of local traditions and, more importantly, to enhance their ability to appreciate and accept cultural and regional differences.

Assessment: 50% coursework, 50% examination.

CUND9003. Cantonese for non-Cantonese Speaking Students (6 credits)

Through a comparative analysis of Putonghua and Cantonese, this course enables students to learn the characteristics of Hong Kong Chinese, to discover the differences in vocabulary and expression between the Cantonese dialect and Mandarin, to strengthen their communication skills in everyday life, and to have a proper understanding of the culture, traditions and people in Hong Kong.

Assessment: 60% coursework, 40% examination.

CAES1000. Core University English (6 credits)

The Core University English (CUE) course aims to enhance first-year students' academic English language proficiency in the university context. CUE focuses on developing students' academic English language skills for the Common Core Curriculum. These include the language skills needed to understand and produce spoken and written academic texts, express academic ideas and concepts clearly and in a well-structured manner and search for and use academic sources of information in their writing and speaking. Four online-learning modules through the Moodle platform on academic speaking, academic grammar, academic vocabulary, citation and referencing skills and avoiding plagiarism will be offered to students to support their English learning. This course will help students to participate more effectively in their first-year university studies in English, thereby enriching their first-year experience.

Assessment: 65% coursework, 35% examination.

JMSC1001. Principles of journalism and the news media (6 credits)

This course offers a critical overview of the news media and the practice of journalism. Through lectures and seminars, students explore how journalists collect, process and deliver information, what makes news, and the inner-workings of media organizations. The course will also explore the challenges the journalists and the media face in a today's fast-changing world.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

JMSC1003. Fundamentals of data journalism (6 credits) (for BJ students only)

With news as its core subject matter, this course is tailored to the needs of journalists and designed to enable students to apply basic concepts of statistics and rules of reporting statistics to the practice of quality journalism. Topics include controversies in reporting statistics, random variables, probability distributions, causation/association, sampling, confidence interval, hypotheses testing, simple linear regression, and error and bias testing.

Assessment: 70% coursework, 30% examination.

JMSC1005. Reporting and writing (6 credits) (for Non-BJ students)

This course offers training in basic reporting and writing skills through lectures and intensive in-class and out-of-class assignments that simulate the experience of working for the news media. Over a range of subjects, students will learn to report and to write clearly, concisely and accurately under deadline pressure.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

Prerequisite: JMSC1001.

JMSC1011. Reporting and writing - I (6 credits) (for BJ students only)

This course offers training in basic reporting and writing skills through lectures and intensive in-class assignments that introduce students to the experience of working for the news media. Over a range of subjects, students will learn to report and to write clearly, concisely and accurately under deadline pressure.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

JMSC1012. Reporting and writing - II (6 credits) (for BJ students only)

Building on the experience gained in JMSC1011, this course employs an experiential learning approach through real-life reporting and writing tasks to hone students' communications skills across multiple media and employ them in a newsroom environment.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

Prerequisites: JMSC1001 and JMSC1011.

ADVANCED COURSESCAES9921. Great Speeches: Rhetoric and Delivery (6 credits)

This 6-credit course aims to enhance students' understanding of the influences of great speeches on social thought and political movements by analysing the argument structures, rhetorical devices and language choices of a range of classic speeches or speech texts. Students will acquire deeper insights into the processes that persuasion and argumentation entail and have an opportunity to put the rhetorical skills and techniques into practice.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

CAES9922. Language, Genre and Reports (6 credits)

In this 6-credit course students will explore the broad genre of report and proposal writing and the sub-genres of reports and proposals within the social sciences from both academic and professional perspectives. It focuses on the rhetorical functions, moves and linguistic patterns of different types of reports and proposals. Through a case-based collaborative approach students investigate social issues and identify genre features while engaging in critical discussions with each other.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

CAES9923. Writing Psychology: Text and Context (6 credits)

This 6-credit course aims to enhance the skills of Psychology majors in writing disciplinary-specific texts including literature review papers and research proposals. JMSC2018. Introduction to audio journalism (6 credits)

This course introduces radio news and audio production for broadcast and online media. With in-class and out-of-class assignments, it offers training in reporting, interviewing, and preparation of news and feature reports for the audio medium.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

Prerequisite: JMSC1001.

JMSC2019. Digital media and society (6 credits)

This course surveys the rapid development of digital media – radio, television, on-line news, video services, and social networking sites. It analyzes the impact of these media on the news industry and more broadly on society and international politics in Asia, America, Europe, and the Middle East. Students examine both the history and the utilization of digital media. They will be expected to develop research projects on new media developments in China, the Asia region, and beyond.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

JMSC2020. Reporting and writing practicum (6 credits)

This course allows students to apply the reporting and writing skills learned during their first year of study in a real-life newsroom environment. Under close faculty supervision, students will report, write, edit and manage an online news publication covering current affairs in Hong Kong for an English-speaking audience.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

Prerequisites: JMSC1001, JMSC1012 or JMSC1005 and JMSC2003.

JMSC2021. Introduction to strategic communication (6 credits)

This course will introduce students to the theories and practice of strategic communication, in the broader context of how NGOs, public relations firms, and other advocates seek to influence public opinion. Through readings, discussions, case studies and writing exercises, students will learn and apply the methods these organizations use to build public awareness of their mission and brand. As a final summative exercise, students will develop a comprehensive strategic communication plan, employing multiple media, for a local NGO. Assessment: 100% coursework.

Assessment: 100% coursework.

FOSS2019. Global Citizenship internship (12 credits)

In order to fulfill the graduation requirement under the theme of ‘Global Citizenship’, students are expected to develop strong analytical abilities in solving complex problems by undertaking non-local internships. For students taking non-local internships, they will begin their internships after completion of the intensive internship workshops. They will be placed in international NGOs or other socially-focused public/private organizations during term time or the summer. Through the participation in the non-local internships, students are expected to engage in working closely with international organizations, identifying key issues and developing strategies to enhance social development and promote social innovation. They are expected to conduct critical analysis of social issues, and to propose strategies to address the problems identified in their community organizations. They will be supervised and assessed by both an academic tutor and a workplace supervisor.

On completion of the internship, students are required to give a project presentation to reflect on their work-related experiences, and in particular to demonstrate how they integrate academic theories with their work-related experiences. To complete the internship, students must write an extensive report critically reflecting on theories learned in class and analyzing empirical findings and work experience gained from the internship.

Assessment: 100% coursework.
