

Professor Arthur Ding

Research Fellow and Director, Institute of International Relations
National Chengchi University, Taiwan

Biography

Professor Arthur Ding is a research fellow and director of Taipei based Institute of International Relations, National Chengchi University. He obtained his doctoral degree in political science from University of Notre Dame in 1987. Professor Ding research focuses on China security issues, including party-military relations, defense industry, and arms control.

His publications includes China's Evolving Military Theory, 1979-1991 (Taipei: Tangshan Publisher, 1996) (in Chinese), China's Defense Industry Conversion (Taipei: Mainland China Affairs Council, 1996) (in Chinese). His edited books are Challenges in the Hu Jintao Era (Taipei: New Journalist, 2002) (in Chinese), and China Dreams (Singapore: World Scientific, 2015) (in English).