

Professor Elizabeth Perry

Henry Rosovsky Professor of Government, Harvard University
Director, Harvard-Yenching Institute, Harvard University

Biography

Elizabeth J Perry is Henry Rosovsky Professor of Government at Harvard University and Director of the Harvard-Yenching Institute. Born in Shanghai and raised in Tokyo, she holds a PhD in political science from the University of Michigan and taught at the Universities of Arizona, Washington (Seattle) and California (Berkeley) before moving to Harvard in 1997. She has served as Director of Harvard's Fairbank Center for East Asian Studies and as President of the national Association for Asian Studies. She is the author or editor of more than 15 books including, most recently, Mao's Invisible Hand: The Political Foundations of Adaptive Governance in China (Harvard University Press, 2011) and Anyuan: Mining China's Revolutionary Tradition (University of California Press, 2012). Her book Shanghai on Strike: The Politics of Chinese Labor (Stanford University Press, 1993) won the John King Fairbank Prize of the American Historical Association; her article, "Chinese Conceptions of 'Rights' from Mencius to Mao – and Now" (Perspectives on Politics, 2008) won the Heinz I Eulau Prize of the American Political Science Association.