

Mr Simon Chu

Chairman

Hong Kong Archives Society

Mr Simon Chu is the Chairman of Hong Kong Archives Society and former Director of the Government Records Service. He is also Special Advisor for the National Committee on Documentary Heritage of China and for UNESCO's Memory of the World Programme, a position which he has held since 1997. He was educated in Hong Kong, Canada and the UK where he obtained his degrees in History, Information Science and Law.

Mr Chu is currently teaching archival science and history at the Chinese University of Hong Kong and HKU SPACE; He is very keen on promoting professional excellence in the archival discipline and a strong advocate for archival legislation in Hong Kong.