

Professor Ian Holliday

Vice-President and Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Teaching and Learning)
The University of Hong Kong

Professor Ian Holliday is the Vice-President and Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Teaching and Learning) at the University of Hong Kong. In 2006, he served as Dean of Social Sciences for a five-year term. Prior to joining HKU, he had served as Head of Public and Social Administration and as Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences at City University of Hong Kong.

Professor Holliday's research has focused on Myanmar politics and governance. He is the author of more than 100 academic publications, including the book Burma Redux: Global Justice and the Quest for Political Reform in Myanmar (Columbia University Press, 2011). He was founding co-editor of Party Politics and the Journal of Asian Public Policy and relaunch editor of Contemporary Politics, and serves on the editorial boards of about a dozen international journals. From 2007 to 2014, he organized or co-organized an annual series of research symposia on Myanmar. In 2013-14, he was a member of a small group of foreign scholars who worked with professors from Mandalay University and the University of Yangon to create a political science curriculum for Myanmar.