

Dr. Monica Garcia Quesada

Coordinator of “Smart Water Cities” project
International Water Resources Association

Biography

Dr Monica Garcia Quesada is a Project Officer with the International Water Resources Association, coordinating a three-year project entitled “Smart Water Cities”. She holds a PhD in Government (LSE, UK) and has extensive research experience in comparative public policy and water regulation. Her work has been published in peer-reviewed journals such as the Journal of Public Policy, the International Review of Administrative Sciences, and the International Journal of Public Administration, as well as in various chapters in edited books. Dr Quesada speaks Spanish, English and French.