

Mr. Sung-Phil Jang
Senior Manager
K-Water, South Korea

Biography

Sung-Phil Jang is a Smart City expert, and his expertise lies in urban water management. He holds degrees in Water Management (Civil Engineering) and Water Infra-operation and Management. He joined the International Water Resources Association (IWRA), under a secondment from K-water, for the “Smart Water City” project in February 2021. He is also a senior manager at K-water. Mr. Jang is now based at IWRA’s Executive Office in Paris, France. He is currently an officer for the “Smart Water City” certificate project. He has extensive hands-on experience in Smart City project planning, as well as with water resources research, water operation and management, and river restoration. He has led the “Busan Eco-Delta Smart City National Pilot Master Plan Project” and helped draft the “Technical Note for Four Rivers Restoration Projects”.