

Dr. Peter Koh

Assistant Professor
Department of Geography
The University of Hong Kong

Biography

Dr. Peter Koh is Assistant Professor in the Department of Geography at The University of Hong Kong. He received his BA and MA degrees from Seoul National University, PhD from Michigan State University, and postdoctoral training at The Ohio State University. He is an associate editor of International Journal of Health Geographics.

Dr. Koh is a health/medical geographer examining various topics on human and animal health, food environment, and racial/ethnic health inequalities by leveraging data-driven research methods. His latest research projects focus on using agent-based modelling for health issues like COVID-19 and physical activity.