

Professor Eldad Davidov

Institute for Sociology and Social Psychology

University of Cologne

Biography

Eldad Davidov is Professor at the Institute for Sociology and Social Psychology at the University of Cologne, Germany, and the Department of Sociology at the University of Zurich, Switzerland, and co-director of the University of Zurich Research Priority Program “Social Networks”. He was president of the European Survey Research Association (ESRA) between 2015 and 2017. His research interests are applications of structural equation modeling to survey data, especially in cross-cultural research. Applications include human values and attitudes toward immigrants and other minorities.