

Class 3: Can We Change?

People change just like the moon. Be more open-minded!

In this class, we have learnt:

1. Attribution is finding reasons to explain things – and we usually attribute things to be caused by either personality or situation.
2. We tend to attribute any mistakes or bad behaviors to personality; and that makes us upset with others.
3. We should consider the situational causes behind things – it is easier to forgive if we do so.
4. Situations change; so do our appearance, behaviors and personality.

These are the things we can do:

1. Consider different possibilities when we look for reasons behind things.
2. Pay attention to situations and do not pass judgement quickly.

Class 4: In-group/Out-group

You and I make a great team

In this class, we have learnt:

1. People can either be our teammate or opponent, at different times and under different situations.
2. Each of us has our roles in a team – and we are all equally important.
3. Although we may look different, such as having different skin colors, we are more similar than different.

These are the things we can do:

1. When we meet people who are different from us, we can look for similarities, such as hobbies, and strengths.
2. The difference amongst us can be a conversational starter.
